

Yellow Water Sloshes Over Walls of Cairo as Defenders Await Crest

All Women and Children Ordered To Leave City at Once; Freezing Wind Lashes Waters, Pounds Levees.

46.2 AT MEMPHIS

Generally Fair Weather Forecast For Next 36 to 48 Hours Over Flood Basins.

(By The Associated Press.)

Creeping yellow waters sloshed over the walls of Cairo, Ill.—prime danger spot in the 1,200-mile battle against the river—as the flood-girt city's army of defenders, 4,500 strong, awaited "zero hour" today behind a barricade 18 inches thick. Lashed by wind and a swift current around the river's bend, waves broke over the lower ramparts of the 60-foot concrete seawall and drummed ominously against the frail 3-foot superstructure crowning the main barrier.

With the cresting Ohio at the all-time record height of 59.50 feet, six inches from the top of the concrete bulkhead, only a mud-boxed wall a foot and a half wide remained to save the threatened deluge.

Second Evacuation.
All women and children were ordered to leave the city at once. It was the second evacuation. Some had drifted back, cheered by reports that no immediate danger impended. Mounting waters warned of an early crisis. Throughout the freezing night, in the glare of floodlights, terse sentinels patrolled the walls looking for weak spots or leaks.

Boats stood by, ready to evacuate several hundred—of the "last ditch" fighters, but the main route of escape would be through the heavy steel gate at the northern embankment.

Possibility of Deluge.
A major crevasse in the Ohio-side wall, it was said, would transform the still dry city into a water graveyard 20 feet deep—within a few minutes.

Falling steadily in the north, the 60-billion tons of Ohio river flood waters poured into the Mississippi river at a rate of nearly 3,000,000 cubic feet per second.

River gauges below Cairo registered the ponderous influx with sharp rises.

Today's chart read:

City	Flood Stage	Today	Change
Cairo, Ill.	40 ft.	59.5	0.4 rise
Memphis	34	46.2	0.6 rise
Holena, Ark.	44	56.5	0.7 rise
Vicksburg	42	45.2	0.6 rise
New Orleans	16	15.1	0.2 rise

The 46.2 reading at Memphis, recorded by the U. S. Weather Bureau, was 1.06 feet lower than reported by the S. S. engineers' gauge. The latter reading was 1.02 feet above the record high-water of 1913.

At Washington, the weather bureau forecast generally fair weather for the next 36 to 48 hours over the flooded Mississippi and Ohio river basins.

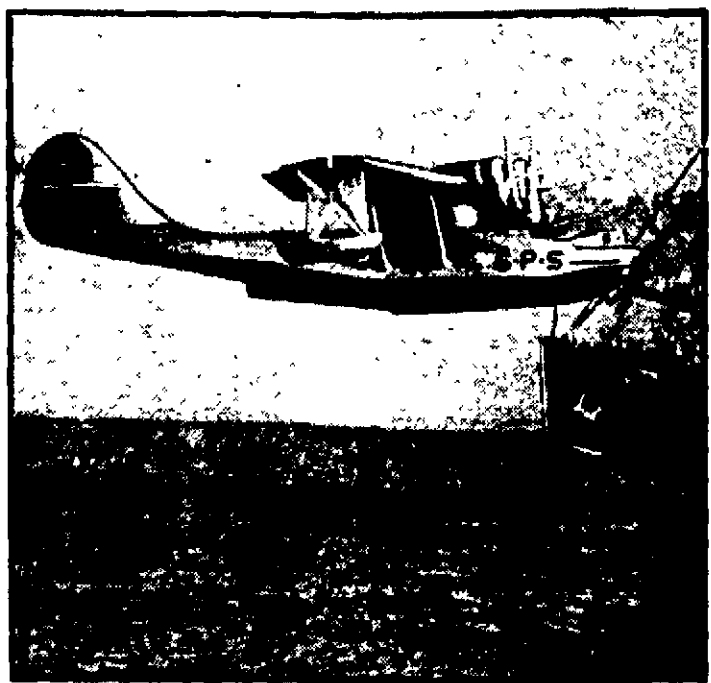

Last Ditch Fight.
(By The Associated Press.)
The valiant defenders of Cairo, Ill., 4,500 strong, dug in today for a last ditch fight against the threat of the first flood in its 79 years' history, while several other communities were forced to surrender to turbulent yellow waters.

On the Ohio river above Cairo, which sits on a slender neck of land where the Ohio dumps its watery load into the Mississippi, Paducah, Ky., temporarily became a ghost town. Complete evacuation was ordered as a health measure.

While Louisville, Cincinnati and other Ohio river towns, battered and bruised by their worst flood, cheerfully turned to rehabilitation efforts, man-made dikes on the long river front from 50 miles below Cairo to the Gulf held the flood waters of the Mississippi. Army engineers re-estimated their predictions the levees would meet the test when the crest of the flood passes down the Mississippi late this week.

"If vigilance, supplies and manpower can do it, the levee line will be 700 miles long," said Lieut. Col. Eugene Reynolds, who is directing the relief of 115,000 men along the Mississippi's billion dollar dike system.

Red Cross Workers At Local Theatres

On Saturday evening, through the courtesy of Mr. Reade of the Kingston and Broadway Theatres, groups of young women in Red Cross uniforms attended the Reade and Broadway Theatres and took up contributions for the Ulster County Red Cross flood relief fund. On Sunday at the continuous performances there were also Red Cross uniformed nurses to take such gifts as those attending the theatres might contribute.

At the Reade Theatre on Wall street, on Saturday evening, Judge Joseph M. Fowler made a stirring plea for all the aid that the people of this community could give to those who are suffering. Judge Fowler made some telling comparisons as to what would be happening here if the Hudson and tributary streams flooded us as the mid-western people have been flooded. As a result there was a very generous contribution of $101.59 received by the young women who were so enthusiastic in doing their bit for the Red Cross.

At the Broadway Theatre, Mayor Heiselman made an equally appealing plea for Red Cross help and that at once, resulting in a total of $193.37 received.

The young women helping at the Reade Theatre were the Misses Helen Flicker, Anna and Josephine Trinke, Irene Perry, Marjorie Toase, Rose Meller, Katherine Horvers and Christabelle Murphy, and they were accompanied by Mrs. C. N. Reed of the Red Cross.

The following members of the Junior League, under the direction of Mrs. Allan Hanstein, covered the two theatres on Sunday: Miss Rosalind Preston, Miss Margaret O'Meara, Mrs. George Robinson, Mrs. Sanger Carlton and Mrs. Davenport, their collecting amounted to $117.87 counted in amounts listed above. Full total $294.96.

The uniforms and caps were contributed by the Kingston Hospital, Mrs. Coffey, Creek Locks, and Miss Margaret Rieser of this city. Members of the police force accompanied those having money to be banked on Saturday night in the State of New York Bank and the Kingston Trust Co. To all helping, the Red Cross expresses appreciation and thanks, especially Mr. Reade.

Blum, Hitler May Meet To Talk Over Collective Peace of Sister Nations

Veterans' Organizations in France and Germany Set Meeting as Goal; Great Britain Also Interested in Wooing Hitler.

FISCAL REFORMS

Blum's Government Puts Into Effect Fiscal "Soak Rich" Reforms; Simplified System.

Paris, Feb. 1 (UP)—A face-to-face meeting between Premier Leon Blum and Fuehrer Adolf Hitler to iron out Franco-German differences over collective peace was set today as the goal of veterans' organizations of the two countries.

While the unofficial machinery for close cooperation was set in motion by the erstwhile enemies in battle, official quarters said, France and Great Britain mapped a plan to woo Hitler from his virtual isolation from western Europe.

Striving to hold the door open to peace, foreign office sources said, the two western European democracies have decided to persist in parleys with Germany through public pleas by their principal statesmen, hoping thus to break down Hitler's resistance to collective security.

Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos fired the initial gun yesterday at a popular front meeting at Chateauroux, declaring Franco-German differences centered only on methods not on aims.

The private conferences between leaders of the veterans' groups marked the renewal of a three-year effort to restore friendship between France and Germany.

Maurice Randoux, member of the executive council of the Franco-German committee, announced "most authorized leaders of our great groups of veterans desire an early interview between the chief of the French government and the chancellor of the Reich."

The negotiations, conducted by Ernest August, Duke of Coburg, for Germany, previously received the approval of both governments.

Meantime the French government said it was continuing to try for a clear answer from Hitler through Blum's speech January 24 in which he asked for cooperation and peace through economic aid and disarmament.

Blum's speech yesterday expressed scant hope Germany's attitude would make European disarmament an easy task but he insisted France was anxious to do all in her power to avoid war.

He stressed French loyalty to her Russian allies, however, in answer to Hitler's demand the Soviet be excluded from "the international community."

Fiscal Reform
Paris, Feb. 1 (UP)—Premier Leon Blum's Socialist government put into effect today France's fiscal reform measures not only for "soaking the rich," but also for aiding the rich to soak.

Finance Minister Vincent Auriol said the main object of the government bill, passed by Parliament January 2, was to simplify France's tax system in an effort to improve collections and stimulate business.

The principal provision was a single tax of six per cent on finished products, instead of the former multiple two per cent turnover taxes.

The tax structure reform requires French men to make full declarations of their incomes if they show "certain exterior signs of wealth."

To business men, the principal reform was the change from multiple taxes to the single finished product tax.

Inheritance taxes are "simplified" and increased in the higher brackets. Income taxes have been increased for incomes above 75,000 francs ($2,750).

The government needs more than 20,000,000,000 francs ($321,440,000) more to balance expected income with expenditures.

Tax experts said it was "too soon" to estimate how much more money—or less—would be brought into the treasury by the tax changes.

MASS BURIAL FOR FLOOD DEAD

Use of Relief Workers in Investigations Opposed

Security Heads Hope To Provide $9.50 a Month After July 1

Washington, Feb. 1 (UP)—The Social Security Board hopes to provide $9.50 a month assistance to more than 1,250,000 persons 65 years old or over in the fiscal year starting July 1.

It made that estimate, based on experience of states, to a House committee considering the independent offices appropriation bill.

The $9.50 federal contribution would match an equal amount given the needy aged by the state.

The Budget Bureau approved a $150,000,000 appropriation for federal old-age assistance grants in the coming fiscal year, an increase of $65,000,000 over the current year.

The security board also plans to provide $3.67 of the $11 per month to be given by federal and state governments to help each dependent child.

The board calculated about 1,130,000 children under 16 on next January 1, would be helped.

For that program, the budget bureau allowed $54,500,000, a $19,600,000 jump over the present fiscal year.

To aid the needy blind, the board plans to add $12.50 to a like amount from the states each month for about five individuals in each 10,000 of the population.

The Budget Bureau approved $10,000,000 for these benefits, $2,000,000 more than in the current year.

Hope For Larger Profit
Washington, Feb. 1 (UP)—Officials of the President's Birthday Bails hoped today to find a larger profit for aiding infantile paralysis sufferers in Saturday's parties than in those of a year ago.

In the capital, chairman George S. Allen said, a $50,000 income was expected, compared with $22,000 last year.

In addition, Senator Wicks has introduced a bill repealing the provisions of the Agriculture and Markets act, with respect to emergency milk control. This is a companion bill to one offered in the Assembly by Assemblyman E. Ogden Bush of Lancaster, Delaware county. All the measures are in committee at present, awaiting further consideration.

MAJOR GRANTS

Major Appropriations Were for Veterans' Administration and Social Security Board.

Washington, Feb. 1 (UP)—The House appropriations committee approved today the first regular appropriation bill of this session of Congress. It carries $1,016,757,143 for more than 30 independent governmental agencies for the fiscal year starting July 1.

This sum was $61,265,982 greater than the appropriations for the current fiscal year, although the committee lopped $5,950,000 from budget estimates. Continuing appropriations of $93,556,255, requiring no further action by Congress, boost the total for independent offices to $1,140,313,398.

Committee cuts included $5,000,000 from social security board salaries and expenses and $2,000,000 from estimates for the Home Owners' Loan Corporation. These were partially offset, however, by an increase of $1,000,000 for the Federal Housing Administration and $50,000 for maintenance and repairs to the White House.

Not Afforded Benefits.
In increasing the amount for the housing administration, the committee said the hearings disclosed a large number of communities had not been afforded the home mortgage insurance benefits of that organization and that its budget estimates permitted no expansion.

The major appropriations recommended were $53,812,000 for the veterans' administration and $254,600,000 for the social security board.

The committee spoke in its report of what it called "disproportionate expenditures" of some emergency agencies for printing "much of which is devoted to overpretentious publications whose apparent primary objective is to sell their activities to the public."

Among Appropriations.
Appropriations recommended included $29,000,000 for the Home Owners' Loan Corporation $5,000,000 for FHA; $9,500,000 for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation; $10,000,000 for the Public Works Administration; $1,023,665 for the Smithsonian Institution; $1,520,000 for the Rural Electrification Administration; $2,325,000 for the Railroad Retirement Board; $785,000 for the National Labor Relations Board and $283,765 for the National Mediation Board.

Into Money Market.
The Home Loan Bank Board is planning to go into the money market for the first time this month.

Preston Delano, governor of the Home Loan Bank System, told a house appropriations subcommittee increased business required seeking money in the market. The capital sufficient hitherto for advances to the Home Loan Banks has been members of the system, he said.

Roof Leaks
Also Congress learned today the White House roof leaks. Officials seeking $193,000 for maintenance and repair of the executive mansion disclosed $400 was needed to patch holes in the roof of the mansion proper and the "terraces."

Predicts Drought
Dr. Charles D. Abbot, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, estimates the next great drought will occur about 1975.

The scientist told a House appropriations subcommittee he had confirmed the prediction, based on long-range changes in the sun's radiation, by a recent study of tree rings in Vermont and New Hampshire over 400 years.

"It is becoming more and more accepted I think, by meteorologists and physicists, that I have shown that there is in the weather a 27-year, a 43-year and a 52-year cycle of events," Dr. Abbot said.

Voting on Proposals
San Francisco, Feb. 1 (UP)—Forty thousand Pacific coast maritime strikers begin voting today on peace proposals which their leaders freely predicted will end the long tie-up, possibly by Thursday. Shipowners, also accepting the strike as virtually settled, prepared for release of 240 ships from blockaded ports. The owners pointed out, however, "that resumption of sailings must necessarily be gradual, since a cargo jam must be moved and ships received."

Agreement Announced
San Diego, Cal., Feb. 1 (UP)—The appointment of Morris H. Arnold as a member of the Senate Howard committee on the amendment to the constitution of California was announced today at the annual meeting of the California State Bar Association. Arnold, who served as a member of the committee on the amendment to the constitution of California in 1929, was elected chairman of the committee on the amendment to the constitution of California in 1936.

Lighting Pays For Itself
Scranton, N. Y., Feb. 1 (UP)—George A. Eddy, General Electric lighting engineer, said today that the reduction in economic loss by illuminating highways where accidents occur would more than pay for the cost of the lighting. In an address before engineers of the State Department of Public Works, Eddy said the state should adopt a "rule of thumb" and illuminate any 10-mile stretch of road where a preventable accident occurred.

Lindbergh on Flight
Langue, Eng., Feb. 1 (UP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh took off today in their new airplane for a demonstration described by airport officials as probably Cairo, Egypt. "We do not know their exact destination but we believe it is Cairo," an airport official said. The flyer flew his new light during maneuvers at Langue from Reading where he had had minor alterations made.

Lehman Will Offer Record Budget to Legislature Tonight; Conjecture Places Sum at 365 Millions

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 1 (UP)—Submission of a 1937-38 budget which may be one of the largest, if not the largest, in New York history will occur in the fifth week of the 160th legislative session tonight.

Governor Lehman will offer at the nocturnal meeting his 5th budget since assuming office in 1932, probably touching off a discussion of appropriations and tax revenues that may continue for weeks.

Legislators of both parties have predicted privately since the session began that the budget may aggregate from $220,000,000 to $265,000,000, as compared to the $235,000,000 expenditures authorized by the 1936 legislature. The largest budget on record is $228,000,000, submitted by Lehman's predecessor, Franklin D. Roosevelt, in 1932.

Meanwhile, both Houses prepared to consider for the first time the more important legislative problems confronting them.

This is the week's picture: Governor Lehman confers today with legislative leaders and welfare officials on possible amendments to his social security program, principally the blind assistance provision. The bill already has passed the Senate, and is now before the Republican-controlled Assembly which thrice defeated it last year.

The Assembly will consider tonight a series of five bills clearing the way for service of women on juries.

Three widely varying bills proposing new minimum wage legislation to replace the 1933 act and nullified by the supreme court will be given a public hearing Thursday and Friday.

The Senate-Assembly committee created the sound oil settlement as a compromise, discontinuance or amendment of the state milk control law will open a series of public hearings at Buffalo on Wednesday.

Remembered as primarily conservative in the belief that Governor Lehman will recommend restoration of the one cent gasoline tax which was done away with by the 1934 Republican-controlled Assembly, which also deferred until this year, providing for a tax to pay off a bonded indebtedness of $26,109,000.

Assemblyman J. Edward Conway, Republican of Kingston, has begun his 1937 legislative session by introduction of a bill legalizing tax sales of unpaid city taxes in the city of Kingston for the years 1931 and 1932. A companion bill, containing the same provisions, has also been offered in the Senate by Senator Arthur H. Wicks, Republican, also of Kingston.

In addition, Senator Wicks has introduced a bill repealing the provisions of the Agriculture and Markets act, with respect to emergency milk control. This is a companion bill to one offered in the Assembly by Assemblyman E. Ogden Bush of Lancaster, Delaware county. All the measures are in committee at present, awaiting further consideration.

Society

K. of C. Annual Ball Friday, February 5

One of the major social enterprises of the season will get under way at 8 o'clock in the evening of February 5 at the Municipal Auditorium when the Knights of Columbus present the eighteenth in a series of annual balls sponsored in the sole interest of non-sectarian charity. The elaborate plans that the Knights have been making for the past two months are rapidly nearing the completion stage and the committee in charge is confident of a successful affair.

At 7 o'clock, the doors of the magnificently decorated ball room will be thrown wide open to those who make it a point to be on hand at an early hour. Especially this year, it may be wise to keep this in mind as the sale of patron and general admission tickets assures a record crowd, and the choice seats may be at a premium.

From 8 until 9 o'clock a concert will be given by Roger Baer and his orchestra of Kingston. Mr. Baer has been for some time preparing for this part of the program and he promises a varied group of currently popular numbers as well as the older favorites.

Taking over the program at 9 o'clock, Felix Ferdinand and his famous orchestra will accompany the vaudeville which will consist of six diversified acts direct from New York city's popular amusement centers. Acting as master of ceremonies for the evening, will be Arthur Boran, radio's imperial impersonator, who has been featured in radio programs from coast to coast.

General assembly dancing will be in order at the conclusion of the entertainment to the strains of Felix Ferdinand's orchestra alternating with Roger Baer's full dance combination. Felix Ferdinand, in person, with his original radio orchestra, was secured through the Consolidated Radio Artists, Inc., a subsidiary of the National Broadcasting Company. This orchestra is rated by radio and music critics as the most versatile combination in the game today. It is the only group in America that features ten violins in the presentation of some of its novelty numbers. Ferdinand's orchestra is best described as "unique" and "distinctive". For two years they have played at the Park Central Hotel in New York city and have recently been acclaimed while playing at the proms of some of the leading American colleges.

Directing his group from the piano, Roger Baer is well prepared to compete with this combination from New York city. Providing that smooth and soothing rhythm for which he has been noted, Roger Baer can always be depended upon to furnish an evening of good tune-full dance music. His special arrangements for this affair will undoubtedly prove a hit with the large assemblage.

The chairman of the various committees for the 18th annual charity ball are as follows: Honorary chairman, Florian P. Wingert; general chairman, John J. McGuire; auditorium, E. Frank Flanagan; door, Bernard A. Feeney; printing and advertising, Patrick T. Murphy; publicity, Joseph J. Murphy; entertainment, Walter L. Foster; music, Andrew T. Gilday; patron, Allen A. Baker; general ticket, Jose A. Alvarez; reception, Frank L. Meagher; check room, James D. Devine; refreshments, Edward F. Moran; door, Gustave Kogel; decorations, William F. Dwyer. Miss Theresa Brophy will be in charge of the flower and cigar booth.

Junior D. A. R. Card Party

Tonight the Junior Group of Wiltschek Chapter, D. A. R., will hold a card party at the chapter house. Playing will begin at 8 o'clock. Those responsible for tables are requested to bring their own cards as none will be furnished at the chapter house. All proceeds this evening will be donated to Tammany and the other approved schools of the south. Those arranging the party are Miss Catherine McCommons and Miss Mary Hubbard, who are acting as general chairmen, and Miss Margaret O'Sullivan, who has charge of refreshments.

Open Forum Discussion

The Business Girls' Club of the Y. W. C. A. is planning to hold an open forum discussion following their regular supper meeting this week. The topic for debate will be "Social Security." Miss Margaret Schuch is acting as chairman. She will be assisted by Miss Mary Howard, Miss Helen Bryant and Miss Bertha Waterman.

Vegetable Growers Plan for Meeting

A county-wide meeting of vegetable growers will be held at the St. Mary's Church Hall, Marlborough, on Wednesday, February 2, under the auspices of the Ulster County Farm Bureau. Sessions will begin promptly at 10 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. Two speakers from the State College of Agriculture at Ithaca have been secured for this meeting, Prof. G. J. Raleigh from the department of Vegetable Gardening, and J. A. Evans from the department of Entomology.

Since the tomato is one of the most widely grown vegetables in Ulster county, considerable attention will be given to this crop. Ample time will also be devoted to sweet corn and other vegetable crops grown in the county. The discussion will include problems of disease control, insect control, and cultural practices. Time will also be allowed for the discussion of questions from growers.

The arrangements for this meeting have been made by the Farm Bureau fruit committee. They cordially invite all interested vegetable growers to come and bring their friends.

DR. BRUNETTE TO ADDRESS POULTRYMEN, FEBRUARY 4

On Thursday evening, February 4, Dr. E. L. Brunette of the State Veterinary College, will be the principal speaker at a county-wide meeting of poultrymen. The meeting will take place in the court house here at 8 o'clock. Dr. Brunette's subject will be "New Results in Poultry Disease Prevention and Control." All poultrymen are invited by the Farm Bureau Poultry Committee under whose auspices the meeting is being held.

This is one of the regular meetings of the Poultry Club, composed of poultrymen who are Farm Bureau members. Attendance is, however, open to all interested. In addition to the talk by Dr. Brunette, a report will be made on recent activities to help poultrymen meet the present very unfavorable feed and egg price situation. The committee will be pleased to receive suggestions for further action. George Ham of High Falls will be the chairman of this meeting.

Wiltschek Chapter Meeting

The annual meeting of the Incorporated Society of Wiltschek Chapter, D. A. R., for the election of three trustees will be held at the chapter house Tuesday, February 2, at 2:30 p. m.

Why Laxatives Fail In Stubborn Constipation

You're 24 hours in too long to wait when relief from stubborn constipation is needed. For that reason, laxatives cause G.A.S., indigestion and many other troubles. If you want REAL, QUICK RELIEF, take a liquid compound such as Adol. Adol's formula contains SEVEN active and cumulative ingredients that act on the stomach and BOTH loosen and move the bowels. Adol's action is so rapid that you can be free of constipation in a short time. Adol's formula is so gentle that you will not be unduly irritated. Adol's Drug Store—Adol.

The man who thinks before he acts can make one step do the work of five.

Man—What did the little boy say when you told him he might be President some day?
Friend—Not much. He said of course he'd take his chances, but personally he wasn't looking for trouble.

A Rendezvous With Debt.
I have a rendezvous with debt. A list of guys I ain't paid yet. For things I bought the easy way. And now, woe me, I gotta pay. I cannot kilt or swim or fish. For my life has another dish. My future bread, I'll have to win it. I ate my cake—now must lie in it. My brow is pimpled in cold sweat—I have a rendezvous with debt.

I have a rendezvous with debt. Where things put off must still be met. Where men who trusted me will find their confidence was not untimed. Where I must stand up face-to-face before the challenge of disgrace. And dole my earnings bit by bit. To guys who should be getting it. Beside a stream of sad regret I have a rendezvous with debt.

I have a rendezvous with debt. My back is tired—my brow is wet. My feet hurt and my head aches some. But conscience says, "Get on, you bum!"

For days gone by I must account. In most embarrassing amount. When credit seemed to be a friend. But turned out ban in false no end. So now, remorsefully I fret—I have a rendezvous with debt.

I have a rendezvous with debt. I feel the tightening of her net. She turns deaf ears to words of love. And money's what I've got least of. So salesman now just get the door—Luxuries interest me no more. It sure will help to ease my pain. And put me on my feet again. If I can keep my teeth hard set—I have a rendezvous with debt.

Hamilton—Mrs. Smith seems to have got over the death of her first husband.
Pennington—Yes, but her second husband hasn't.

Read it or Not.
Pearl Street is the only street in Manhattan, New York, that runs east, west and south.

Most women would be cured of jealousy if they would only take one good, steady and impartial look at their husbands.

Friend—I hear you and your wife are leading a fast and furious life these days.
Man—Yes. I'm fast and she's furious.

If women pick husbands by the same standards of beauty they pick hats, what awful lookers some of us must be.

Mistress—In the time it takes me to tell you how to do the work I could do it myself.
Maid—Yes, mum. And in the time it takes me to listen to you, so could I.

In business, each day is a fresh adventure.

During the special session of the 73rd congress between March 3 and June 16, 1933—the first session under Roosevelt—103 laws were enacted.

The radio airplane is something it seems. That Puff didn't thought of in laying his schemes. To get to the South Pole. And now he's excited. And Johnson, through snoring, appears really delighted.

No Railroad Car
New York—Leonardo Macca, 21, found out, at the cost of head and internal injuries and a charge of grand larceny, that a taxicab is not intended for driving on railroad tracks.

Detectives Arthur Felton and Conrad Prinz said Macca stole a taxicab, drove it through the iron fence into the storage yard of the I. R. T. subway and started bouncing along the tracks, sparks from the third rail sputtering an accompaniment. He didn't stop, said the detectives, until the cab crashed into a buffer and even then a chase on foot was necessary to capture him.

Unknown Friends
Buffalo, N. Y.—A seven-year-old boy shoved 15 cents across the desk of Police Lieutenant Frank Goodman.

"Here's my candy allowance," said the youngster, "will you see it gets to Louisville where the floods are."

"Right," said Goodman, "What's the name?"

"That makes no difference," the boy answered, "I don't know anybody in Louisville."

Can't Take It, Eh?
Los Angeles—Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Swanson are going back to the Yukon—where the temperature often is 60 degrees below zero—to get warm. They came here from Ben-My-Chree, 270 miles beyond Skagway, Alaska, but the California climate proved too rigorous.

"We caught the first colds we have had in years in sunny Southern California," they said.

Came a Cropper
Glasgow, Mont.—Malcolm Mitchell, 23, and James Bridwell, 29, went coyote hunting in an airplane. Sighting one of the animals in the snow below, Bridwell stalled the plane so Mitchell could draw a bead. The plane crashed, Mitchell suffered two broken arms; Bridwell a broken arm and ankle. The coyote got away.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By CLAUDE E. JACOBSON

New York, Feb. 1 (AP).—Selected oils, rubbers, coppers and specialties tilted upward in today's stock market, but many other issues were unable to put on advancing steam.

Buying impetus was greatest in the first hour. Thereafter selling cropped up here and there and trading activity dwindled. Gains were in the majority near the final period. Transfers were around 2,400,000 shares.

Quotations given by Parker, McElroy & Co., members N. Y. Stock Exchange, 120 Broadway, New York city; branch office, 222 Wall street.

Big Drop in Steel Production

The widespread floods and continued deadlock in the automobile industry make judgment of actual business conditions last week rather difficult. Steel production went down from close to 81 per cent to around 75. Car loadings for the week to January 23 were less. Retail sales in wide areas were curtailed and wholesale orders likewise suffered.

However maintenance of activities in basic industries this winter against seasonal decline reflect expansion forces carrying over into future months.

Whether Barron's Weekly Index of "production and trade," at 84.4 for the week to January 23, down from above 90 and showing declines for five successive weeks implies a culmination of the general upward impulse can hardly be determined until the temporary effect of flood conditions—at least—has been measured.

Flood damage and interruption of operations will reduce profits of a wide range of businesses this quarter and probably next, but are not in themselves capable of reversing the "curve" of business activity. Natural disasters of this kind are necessarily and immediately followed by energetic work of restoration.

Net changes for the week in both security and commodity markets were generally downward. Stocks regained part of their previous losses in the short Saturday's session. There are indications of a movement away from extremely easy money conditions, although the Reserve Board holds its action in raising reserve requirements one-third is no abandonment of its easy money policy. The decision on reserve requirements removes the uncertainty which has been hanging over the bond market and is expected to spur new issues.

Report of the American Iron and Steel Institute by 85 companies representing 90 per cent of the industry's capacity, reveal proposed expenditure this year for new construction and equipment totaling more than $290,000,000, compared with about $216,000,000 spent in 1936.

Red Cross Clothing Contributions

Mr. Sittman of the PWA, who has been helping receive the clothing coming in from the county and city recently, has reported as follows: Generous consignments of excellent clothing and bedding from South Rondout, Port Jervis, Lyonsville, Accord, Marlborough, two loads from Stone Ridge, two loads from Saugerties, Mrs. Snyder, chairman. Again the Red Cross asks that those giving clothing and bedding look over what they have to give to see that it is whole, clean and in good condition such as we would be proud to give our friends or neighbors near at hand or in the valleys of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers.

From Town of Olive

The large contribution listed as coming from the community of Shokan should have been listed as coming from the Town of Olive.

Birthday Ball At Golden Rule Inn

Saturday night a crowd estimated at 300 attended the birthday ball in honor of President Franklin D. Roosevelt at Golden Rule Inn. The proceeds along with those of 6,000 similar affairs throughout the nation will be used in the fight against infantile paralysis.

The management of the inn presented a large decorated birthday cake which was distributed among the patrons. Four excellent acts of vaudeville were presented and a show of local talent was given by members of the Casino School of Dancing.

Paul Parcell and his eight-piece orchestra furnished music for the dancing. The affair was the most successful since the start of the annual birthday ball.

Phelan Frowns on Braddock Run-out

New York, Feb. 1 (AP).—If Heavyweight Champion Jimmy Braddock runs out on his scheduled championship bout with Max Schmeling in June, "he has more chance of getting the Brooklyn bridge than he has of getting back the $5,000 he posted to insure the match," Gen. John J. Phelan, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, said today.

Phelan refused to enter into a lengthy discussion of Braddock's proposal to accept a bout with Joe Louis in Chicago rather than the Schmeling bout.

Gen. William Newberry's William Newberry, who for several years has been with the McBridge store on Wall street, in charge of the soda fountain and lunch counter, has taken a position in the grocery department of the Newberry store.

Phelan about normal process of blood clotting in men and animals is being sought in research at the University of Iowa medical school.

Reardon and Hess Celebrating Their 24th Year as Cops

Policeman William J. Reardon and Policeman William Hess are today celebrating their 24th anniversaries as members of the Kingston police department by working their posts as usual. They became members of the police department on February 1, 1913, just 24 years ago today. With them were appointed William F. Hanley, Bernard O'Neill and James V. Connolly. The first two are dead, while Officer Connolly resigned from the force some years ago, and is now in Detroit, Mich.

Officer Reardon wears Shield No. 1 and Officer Hess shield No. 2 and they are the two oldest men in years of service on the police force with the exception of Chief of Police J. Allan Wood and Sergeant Charles Phinney, both of whom have been active and efficient members of the department for over a quarter of a century.

Before Officer Reardon decided to take up the profession of policeman he conducted a grocery store on Broadway, at the foot of Rogers street, while Officer Hess was a conductor on the local trolley road. Both men became widely and favorably known, and during the nearly quarter of a century as policemen they have increased the number of friends they have, and both are known as efficient and capable officers.

Both officers have seen many changes in the police department since they became officers. The police signal system has been installed, the department has been completely motorized, a fingerprinting system has been installed and recently a radio broadcasting system and the radio cars were added to the equipment, and many other improvements and changes made until today the city has one of the finest and most up-to-date departments of any city its size in the state.

When Officers Reardon and Hess became members of the department, Roscoe Irwin was mayor of the city, and the following year he was succeeded by the late Palmer Canfield, Jr.

Schipperke Is Blackest Dog of Various Breeds

The schipperke (pronounced skiperke) is the blackest dog of all breeds and it was in faroff Belgium that they won their first merits, according to a writer in the Los Angeles Times. Around the barges that float on the Flemish canals runs a wide ledge and there these small dogs would keep watch, barking an alarm at danger and assisting the barge captains so efficiently that the name of "little skipper" was bestowed upon them.

They have one very noticeable characteristic—the complete absence of a tail. The majority are born tailless.

The average "Skip" weighs about twelve pounds. Their general appearance is that of a small cobby dog, intensely alert, and exceedingly dainty. The head has a fox-like expression with its pointed snout and sharp, erect ears. The eyes are dark, oval in shape, and very expressive.

Ohio had its first million-dollar lottery in 1935. The first general assembly of the state court judges $1,312,323.

Chinese to Aid
U.S. Flood Sufferers

Shanghai, Feb. 1 (AP)—A campaign to raise the equivalent of $50,000 to help victims of the United States floods was launched today by appreciative Chinese leaders, hopeful of reciprocating American aid in Chinese disasters.

Government officials and prominent industrialists, comprising the "American Flood Relief Committee," announced the drive would begin at once.

Dr. Hsiang-Hai Kung, minister of finances, leader of the movement, said $30,000 would be sent in cash as soon as it was publicly subscribed and the rest would be spent for medical and other supplies.

"In each instance where China was the victim of natural calamities, America always assisted," Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, premier, Dr. Hsiang-Hai Kung, and others declared. "Now it is China's turn to show in words and deeds our sympathy for America."

BALL PARK SHELTERS FLOOD REFUGEES

Tents were erected in the ball park at Marlborough Ark. to shelter refugees from the Mississippi flood. Surging steadily upward to unprecedented heights, the yellow waters forced evacuation of 500,000 lowland dwellers in Arkansas. The army was prepared to evacuate the entire valley from Cairo, Ill. to New Orleans if necessary. Above, refugees are seen gathered in front of their temporary homes. (Associated Press Photo).

KING COTTON VERSUE "THE OLE MAN"

Sixty-dollar bales of cotton were going into this expansive barrier at Memphis against the rising waters of the Mississippi. Some 25,000 bales were hoisted into place along Front street, shown above. (Associated Press Photo).

"BARS DO NOT A PRISON MAKE"

Flood refugees at Louisville welcomed accommodations in jail, where they enjoyed the only light, heat and pure water supply available in the stricken city. Estimates as to the number of homeless in the Central West ranged all the way to a million as the Ohio river began to subside and the Mississippi took its place as Public Enemy No. One. Home life must go on, even in a refugee camp. Here eight-year-old Jean Murphy is pinning a diaper on little sister, Bonnie. They were among the flood's homeless in Memphis. (Associated Press Photo).

ON GUARD AS WATERS FALL

As the flood waters of the Ohio river slowly receded, scenes like this one in Louisville became common. Soldiers stood guard over the debris-strewn business sections as merchants prepared to reopen their doors. Damage in the flood bowl was estimated at more than $400,000,000. dry spot in Harrisburg, city of 12,000 northeast of Cairo, was the business section. Harrisburg is 22 miles away from the river's normal course.

Flood fighters in the Cairo sector had a busy night plugging minor breaks. The Slough Landing Neck dike gave way at Besse, 10 miles north of Tiptonville, but engineers said it would not endanger the Tennessee city. The floodwaters cut across the one-and-a-half mile neck of the horseshoe bend to rejoin the Mississippi and ease the strain at New Madrid, Mo., at the head of the bend.

Man Believed Drowned

Tragedy apparently was averted when a large barge returning a large number of WPA rescue workers to their base at New Madrid capsized last night. Army officers said their check indicated that only one man may have drowned.

Awaiting a report from the flood commission headed by Harry Hopkins, WPA administrator, which began an inspection of the flood areas today, President Roosevelt was advised that 150,000 federal relief workers were aiding nearly a million persons driven from their homes. The Red Cross counted 556,603 persons whose homes had been flooded and of those 576,175 abandoned them. Meanwhile the Red Cross said its goal of $10,000,000 for the flood relief was in sight. Contributions totaled $8,319,500.

Utter Red Cross Appeal

Mrs. Hugh M. Ferguson, wife of Supervisor Ferguson of the town of Ulster, asks that anyone of the town having clothing which they care to donate to the Red Cross call her at her home, phone 54-W-1, and she will call and make collections. This will also apply to anyone who cares to make cash donations to the flood sufferer fund of the Red Cross. Anyone desiring to leave clothing for the Red Cross collection may do so at her home in Lake Katrine and it is requested that clothing be donated as quickly as possible so that it may be included in a shipment to go forward on Saturday.

Meeting Called to Aid Flood Victims

Representatives of all the agricultural organizations in Ulster county will meet at 8 o'clock in the courthouse here tonight to appoint a committee and make plans to collect food for shipment to the flood area. This is part of a state-wide movement to ship at least 25 carloads of food-stuffs this week.

The committee appointed will take charge of getting sub-committees to solicit food such as potatoes, eggs, fruit, carrots, cabbage, etc., throughout the county. This will be gathered and loaded for shipment to the flooded area by the Red Cross. Complete plans will be announced after the meeting tonight.

The shrewd business man knows what people want. The shrewd politician knows what they don't want.

High School Seniors Plan Play Friday

Friday evening of this week will bring to the stage of the Kingston High School auditorium one of America's best comedies. The senior class of 1937 has selected as its annual dramatic offering George Kelly's "The Show Off."

This play, as its title implies, is based upon the adventures or misadventures of a show off. The events center around the Fishers, a family of plain, hard working people. Like every family they have their individual problems. These are only made more burdensome by the entrance of Aubrey Piper into the family. He marries the youngest daughter, Amy, and thus involves them in his hectic affairs. Clara, the oldest daughter, is married to a successful business man. She seeks to aid the family by acting as judge and counselor for the many disputes which naturally arise. This role is ably enacted by Miss Marge Whitely. Mrs. Fisher, whose tart tongue and common sense are a ready match for the fantastic ideas of Aubrey, the show off, is the mother of the family. Miss Jean Elwyn splendidly characterizes this role.

Amy, the wife of Aubrey, is enacted by Miss Ethel Moncure. As the girl, who refuses to regard Aubrey as nothing less than a knight in shining armor, she does a splendid job. The role of Aubrey, the show off, is borne by Robert Van Kleeck. He rises to heights in carrying his part. William Stall appears as Pop Fisher, the head of the family. Louis Straley is Joe, the only son. Carl Studer does an excellent job as Frank Hyland, Clara's husband. Ed Safford and Norman Shapiro round out the cast by appearing as Mr. Gill and Mr. Rogers, respectively.

The play is under the direction of Miss Tarrant, who was responsible for the successful presentation of former senior plays, such as "Seven Keys to Baldpate," "Big Hearted Herbert" and "Captain Apple Jack." Tickets for this production are in the hands of the members of the senior class. Seats may be reserved any day from now till Friday from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. at the high school.

January Leaves Kingston In Snow And Rain Storm

The month of January which was ushered in with sunshiny weather and mild temperature left Kingston in snow and rain. During Sunday 2½ inches of snow fell, and late in the afternoon the temperature rose and the snow changed to rain. The rain was followed by a drop in the mercury which resulted in the snow and slush being turned into ice and this morning streets and sidewalks were a glare of ice.

The street department was out early sanding the hills and dangerous street intersections, and as a result no serious accidents were reported in the city. Many auto drivers placed chains on their cars.

Commander Noville To Speak Here

Fresh from his adventures as second-in-command of the second Byrd Antarctic Expedition, Commander George O. Noville will appear Wednesday evening at 8:15 in the high school auditorium. This is the fourth in a series of lectures sponsored by the Kingston School-women's Club.

Commander Noville is well qualified to give a living portrait of Admiral Byrd and to describe the purpose of his exploratory expeditions, having been flight engineer on the Byrd Transatlantic Flight, and executive officer and personal aide to Byrd on the latest Antarctic expedition. Aside from this, Noville is said to be a colorful and witty speaker. His record gives some indication of the adventurous life he has had.

U. S. CHEMISTS NOW ARE WORLD LEADERS

Outstrip All Nations in Synthetic Products.

New York.—The United States is outstripping all nations in synthetic chemistry, it is declared in the American Chemical society's annual review of scientific progress.

"The huge tonnages of synthetic products used in this country are daily increasing and their variety widening at a rate far greater than can be equaled in any other country of the world," it is said.

"Frequent announcements from abroad of new synthetic products have continually caused a momentary stir in men's minds. The announcement, for example, that a chocolate bar which looks like soap but tastes like chocolate has been synthesized in Germany from coal-tar raw materials and actually marketed appears at first to indicate that our foreign brethren still lead us in cleverness.

"However, when this and similar announcements are checked and their significance is evaluated, the impression is largely nullified. Similar agitation has been caused from time to time by reports of new synthetic rubberlike materials abroad, which often turn out to be more interesting than important; in this field particularly the United States, with at least two such synthetic materials in large scale commercial production, definitely leads the world. More and more the real advances of industry based on scientific discovery in the United States are becoming everyday articles of commerce which the man in the street fails to recognize as synthetic."

The upturn in the chemical industry during 1936 was so pronounced that well qualified chemists have become scarce, according to the review, which reports an accelerated demand for chemical equipment, particularly abroad.

Charleston Holds Claim of "Most Historic City"

Charleston claims to be "America's most historic city." In 1670, those who settled Charleston planned not a frontier post, but a great city.

In July of 1774, at the meeting of the Provincial congress in Charleston there was set up the first independent government in America. On nearby Sullivan's island at what is now Fort Moultrie the great British forces under Sir Peter Parker were defeated in 1776, for the colonists' first decisive victory of the Revolution. In Charleston harbor nearly a hundred years later was fired the shot that precipitated the great Confederate war.

From this seaport in 1794 the first shipment of cotton to Europe was made; here in 1830 the "Best Friend," first steam locomotive train ever to operate in America regularly with passengers and freight, made its maiden trip; in 1735 the first fire insurance company in America was begun and in 1822 the first fireproof building was erected. The first submarine ever to function in warfare was Hunley's boat, used by the Confederates in 1863.

Charleston's streets have been trodden by a long procession of adventurers, pirates, soldiers, statesmen, men of affairs and prominence, artists, historians, painters and poets.

Taxes paid by the railroads in 1936 were greater than any year since 1922.

SHE WINS HUSBAND AND DOLL

Presenting Eunice Winstanley Johns, nine years old, and Charlie Johns, 22, her husband, as they honeymooned in a mountain cabin near Sneedville, Tenn. The girl and the six-foot mountaineer planned to start house-keeping in a few weeks, with the blessings of their parents. Meanwhile, she played happily with the doll her mate had selected for her wedding present. (Associated Press Photo).

Wedlock Furore Tops Flood News In Sneedville Area

Mountain neighbors, and civic leaders in Knoxville 60 miles away, joined in protests while the girl's parents defended the match.

Mrs. Jane Beckler, widow, who lives in a cabin across a hollow from the Johns' farm, said the marriage "order not be allowed, that child's unaccountable."

The Rev. Walter Lamb, 53-year-old Baptist clergyman, told reporters he conducted the ceremony for Johns and little Eunice Winstanley in the middle of a road January 19 "because they told me they were going to get someone else if I didn't marry them."

Mrs. Wiley Morgan, president of the Tennessee Federation of Women's Clubs, said "that such a thing could occur in Tennessee is disappointing, but it should spur us to demand a thorough reform."

The Rev. J. K. Haynes, Baptist minister of Knoxville, asserted: "The state itself is a party to this crime against society. An organized appeal should be made to the legislature to modernize our marriage law."

Parents of the couple remained unperturbed. Mrs. Lewis Winstanley, mother of the bride, said "if they love one another, then getting married is the thing to do. If they want to live together and be happy, then people should leave them alone."

The Ohio legislature in 1812 enacted a law which made bringing into the state a deck of cards an offense punishable by a fine of from $5 to $25.

Texas' needy aged received $7,638,000, half of which was federal money, in the first six months of 1936 after the state began pension payments.

New York.—The United States is outstripping all nations in synthetic chemistry, it is declared in the American Chemical society's annual review of scientific progress.

"The huge tonnages of synthetic products used in this country are daily increasing and their variety widening at a rate far greater than can be equaled in any other country of the world," it is said.

"Frequent announcements from abroad of new synthetic products have continually caused a momentary stir in men's minds. The announcement, for example, that a chocolate bar which looks like soap but tastes like chocolate has been synthesized in Germany from coal-tar raw materials and actually marketed appears at first to indicate that our foreign brethren still lead us in cleverness.

"However, when this and similar announcements are checked and their significance is evaluated, the impression is largely nullified. Similar agitation has been caused from time to time by reports of new synthetic rubberlike materials abroad, which often turn out to be more interesting than important; in this field particularly the United States, with at least two such synthetic materials in large scale commercial production, definitely leads the world. More and more the real advances of industry based on scientific discovery in the United States are becoming everyday articles of commerce which the man in the street fails to recognize as synthetic."

The upturn in the chemical industry during 1936 was so pronounced that well qualified chemists have become scarce, according to the review, which reports an accelerated demand for chemical equipment, particularly abroad.

Charleston Holds Claim of "Most Historic City"

Charleston claims to be "America's most historic city." In 1670, those who settled Charleston planned not a frontier post, but a great city.

In July of 1774, at the meeting of the Provincial congress in Charleston there was set up the first independent government in America. On nearby Sullivan's island at what is now Fort Moultrie the great British forces under Sir Peter Parker were defeated in 1776, for the colonists' first decisive victory of the Revolution. In Charleston harbor nearly a hundred years later was fired the shot that precipitated the great Confederate war.

From this seaport in 1794 the first shipment of cotton to Europe was made; here in 1830 the "Best Friend," first steam locomotive train ever to operate in America regularly with passengers and freight, made its maiden trip; in 1735 the first fire insurance company in America was begun and in 1822 the first fireproof building was erected. The first submarine ever to function in warfare was Hunley's boat, used by the Confederates in 1863. Charleston's streets have been trodden by a long procession of adventurers, pirates, soldiers, statesmen, men of affairs and prominence, artists, historians, painters and poets.

Taxes paid by the railroads in 1926 were greater than any year since 1921.

SHE WINS HUSBAND AND DOLL

Presenting Eunice Winstead Johns, nine years old, and Charlie Johns, 22, her husband, as they honeymooned in a mountain cabin near Sneedville, Tenn. The girl and the six-foot mountaineer planned to start house-keeping in a few weeks, with the blessings of their parents. Meanwhile, she played happily with the doll her mate had selected for her wedding present. (Associated Press Photo).

Wedlock Furore Tops Flood News In Sneedville Area

Mountain neighbors, and civic leaders in Knoxville 60 miles away, joined in protests while the girl's parents defended the match.

Mrs. Jane Beckler, widow, who lives in a cabin across a hollow from the Johns' farm, said the marriage "order not be allowed, that child's unaccountable."

The Rev. Walter Lamb, 55-year-old Baptist clergyman, told reporters he conducted the ceremony for Johns and little Eunice Winstead in the middle of a road January 19 "because they told me they were going to get someone else if I didn't marry them."

Mrs. Willey Morgan, president of the Tennessee Federation of Women's Clubs, said "that such a thing could occur in Tennessee is disappointing, but it should spur us to demand a thorough reform."

The Rev. J. K. Haynes, Baptist minister of Knoxville, asserted: "The state itself is a party to this crime against society. An organized appeal should be made to the legislature to modernize our marriage law."

Parents of the couple remained unperturbed.

Mrs. Lewis Winstead, mother of the bride, said "if they love one another, then getting married is the thing to do. If they want to live together and be happy, then people should leave them alone."

The Ohio legislature in 1812 enacted a law which made bringing into the state a deck of cards an offense punishable by a fine of from $5 to $25.

Texas' needy aged received $7,638,000, half of which was federal money, in the first six months of 1936 after the state began pension payments.
